What is Nishijin-ori?

Nishijin Textile is a term that indicates woven cloths with intricate patterns made in Nishijin area in Kyoto. Created with silk threads dyed prior to weaving, called sakizome, these fabrics are small in production scale but very wide in variety. With a long tradition which goes back to Heian period (794 to around 1191), the weavers of Nishijin have been continuing their tremendous efforts to realize more creative and expressive designs. Nishijin Textile was designated as one of the national traditional crafts of Japan on February 2nd, 1976.

About STARRAIN Japan

Starrain Japan is a brand that offers innovative products made with the techniques of Nishijin Textile. With the aim of expanding its market worldwide, we have been working to develop this originally narrow-width textile into a wide-width in order to broaden its range of applications, not only in fashion but also in interior categories.

Textile and Product

STARRAIN-textile is made with the techniques of Nishijin area, one of the representative of Japanese traditional textiles.

Unusual for Nishijin Textile, STARRAIN-textile is specially woven in the width of 150cm, in order to broaden its applications as interior textiles.

You can choose the color and pattern of the fabric freely.

There are also 100cm and 150cm fabric size.

In addition to textile, we can make different types of interior items such as Interior objects combining tiles and fabrics/cushion/bed throw/Table runner/The dishes/Furniture/Headboard/ etc.

We can propose various things that made use of Nishijin textile

We can respond to custom orders.

Let's create great products together.
